

Shaping the future

Advisor: Radiation Safety

An exciting opportunity exists for an Advisor: Radiation Safety reporting to the Specialist: Radiation Safety. The primary purpose of this role is to perform radiation safety risk assessments, monitoring, control and reporting in compliance with the mine

Key performance areas

- Maintaining HSE standards;
- Managing instrument maintenance, including calibration and repair programs;
- Applying quality control on data, work practices and programmes for improvement purposes;
- Ensuring applicable methodologies and procedures are adhered to and applicable instruments used;
- Via risk assessment calculations determine risk factors due to radiation with regard to employees and the public; and
- Conducting technical, system and performance audits in all areas of the mine in conformance with the requirements of national, Rio Tinto and international legal requirements relevant to radiation safety;

Minimum qualifications

- Grade 12;
- A recognised Bachelors of Science (BSc) or Bachelors of Arts (BA) in Environmental Management;
- A minimum of two years' working experience in a science or HSE related field;
- One (1) or more years in a Corporate or Consulting role within Rio Tinto will be an added advantage;
- One (1) or more years Project management experience in a science related field is desirable; and
- Code B driver's licence.

To apply

Please go to the following website www.riotinto.com/careers/ and search for Advisor: Radiation Safety

Application closing date: 27 April 2018